

Delaware Division of the Arts Announces Fall Events Featuring 2019 Individual Artist Fellows

Wilmington, Del. (September 12, 2019) – The Delaware Division of the Arts is pleased to announce several upcoming events featuring 2019 Individual Artist Fellows. Delaware's Individual Artist Fellowships recognize artists for their outstanding quality of work and provide monetary awards. Individual Artist Fellows are publicly acknowledged and benefit from the additional exposure to their work. They are also required, as part of the grant program, to participate in public events to share their work.

For the 2019 Individual Artist Fellowships, over 130 Delaware choreographers, composers, musicians, visual artists, and writers were reviewed by out-of-state arts professionals, who considered both demonstrated creativity and skill in their art form. Twenty artists were selected for Fellowships.

Material World: New Work by Daniel Jackson and Ken Mabrey

Daniel Jackson is the 2019 Established Artist in Visual Arts: Photography. In this new body of work, photographic still-lives play with “impossible” compositions. Images feature temporary sculptures constructed in the studio that defy gravity and take on a surreal dimension, blurring the distinction between photography and computer-generated imagery. Ken Mabrey's linear, expressive brushwork recalls the work of Reginald Marsh and Peter Paul Rubens. His playful sketches, referred to as “mark-makings,” contain vast color range.
